

Genesis 24 • The Servant & the Bride

1. (v.1-9) Abraham is an example of dedication, choosing to live and make every decision in accordance with God's promises.

2. (v.10-49) The servant and Rebekah are examples of devotion, adhering to more than the minimum standards in the course of obedience to their masters over them.
 - a. The example of the servant: As an example of devotion, he believed in prayer, knew how to wait on the Lord, and was obedient to every word and instruction of his master.

 - b. The example of Rebekah: She is also an example of devotion in her attitude, spirit and work ethic, an example of the family that raised her to act appropriately even when away from their presence.

3. (v.50-60) Rebekah is an example of the crossroads at which every person ultimately finds themselves: decision. Will you proceed by faith or will you remain where you are in sin?

4. (v.61-67) Having made the journey by faith, the Bride is welcomed by the Bridegroom and receives all that was promised, forever joined with Him.
