

Job 3 • When Silence Comes to an End

1. (v.1-10) Rather than _____ God, as Satan predicted and Job's wife advocated, Job deflects it to _____ the day of his birth.

2. (v.11-19) _____ is the great equalizer for everyone regardless of their _____ in this life.

3. (v.20-26) For believers, the most difficult thing to overcome when experiencing _____ is reconciling it with what we personally know about _____, His _____, and His _____.

Overall Application:

From the outset, Job's question is about God's _____, not about relief from _____.

Job 3 • When Silence Comes to an End

1. (v.1-10) Rather than _____ God, as Satan predicted and Job's wife advocated, Job deflects it to _____ the day of his birth.

2. (v.11-19) _____ is the great equalizer for everyone regardless of their _____ in this life.

3. (v.20-26) For believers, the most difficult thing to overcome when experiencing _____ is reconciling it with what we personally know about _____, His _____, and His _____.

Overall Application:

From the outset, Job's question is about God's _____, not about relief from _____.