

Psalm 145 • The Cycle of Praise

1. (v.1-7) Praise begins with a _____ which grows into ever-expanding circles gathering others along the way.
2. Biblical praise is the contrast of our inferior _____ to God's exceedingly superior _____.
3. Biblical praise doesn't just expand from the individual to the group, but from one _____ to the next.
4. (v.8-9) We are supposed to remain aware of God's character at work across _____ from before we were born, in the course of this present life, and to the generations to follow.
5. (v.10-13) Praise is the exclusive expression of _____ to Him.
6. One of the primary purposes of praise is to take our focus off the finiteness of _____.
7. (v.14-21) Praise is supposed to be the natural by-product of bringing people through life's difficulties who...
 - a. _____ (v.18)
 - b. _____ (v.19)
 - c. _____ (v.20)
8. The reason praise is so precious to God is because it comes from those who love, fear, and obey Him to begin with who are, in effect, returning _____ for _____.

Psalm 145 • The Cycle of Praise

1. (v.1-7) Praise begins with a _____ which grows into ever-expanding circles gathering others along the way.
2. Biblical praise is the contrast of our inferior _____ to God's exceedingly superior _____.
3. Biblical praise doesn't just expand from the individual to the group, but from one _____ to the next.
4. (v.8-9) We are supposed to remain aware of God's character at work across _____ from before we were born, in the course of this present life, and to the generations to follow.
5. (v.10-13) Praise is the exclusive expression of _____ to Him.
6. One of the primary purposes of praise is to take our focus off the finiteness of _____.
7. (v.14-21) Praise is supposed to be the natural by-product of bringing people through life's difficulties who...
 - a. _____ (v.18)
 - b. _____ (v.19)
 - c. _____ (v.20)
8. The reason praise is so precious to God is because it comes from those who love, fear, and obey Him to begin with who are, in effect, returning _____ for _____.