

Ecclesiastes 9 Ecclesiastes 11-12 • How to Prepare for the End

1. (v.11:1-5) We may not understand all of God's ways, but we're to minister to our fellow man not for what we believe to be the _____ on our _____, but for what _____ will do with it.
2. (v.11:6-8) We must recognize our responsibility to _____ during every available _____ while there is yet time to do so.
3. (v.11:9-10) Our service to God through our commitment to others requires a _____, _____ approach that trusts in _____ to produce the right results for both His _____ at large and for our _____ personally.

Summary to This Point: Use this life to _____ your _____ at every opportunity. In so doing, you are not only participating in His kingdom's _____, but establishing _____ in God's eyes both in this life and the one to come.

4. (v.12:1-8) We cannot wait until " _____ " to prepare for " _____ "—it must begin at the earliest point in our _____ possible and become a natural extension of our _____.
5. (v.12:9-12) The pursuit of _____—no matter to what depth—is no substitute for putting God's ways into practice. The biblical definitions of " _____ " and " _____ " is to _____ and put into practice.
6. (v.12:13-14) The Ultimate Conclusion: " _____ ".

Ecclesiastes 9 Ecclesiastes 11-12 • How to Prepare for the End

1. (v.11:1-5) We may not understand all of God's ways, but we're to minister to our fellow man not for what we believe to be the _____ on our _____, but for what _____ will do with it.
2. (v.11:6-8) We must recognize our responsibility to _____ during every available _____ while there is yet time to do so.
3. (v.11:9-10) Our service to God through our commitment to others requires a _____, _____ approach that trusts in _____ to produce the right results for both His _____ at large and for our _____ personally.

Summary to This Point: Use this life to _____ your _____ at every opportunity. In so doing, you are not only participating in His kingdom's _____, but establishing _____ in God's eyes both in this life and the one to come.

4. (v.12:1-8) We cannot wait until " _____ " to prepare for " _____ "—it must begin at the earliest point in our _____ possible and become a natural extension of our _____.
5. (v.12:9-12) The pursuit of _____—no matter to what depth—is no substitute for putting God's ways into practice. The biblical definitions of " _____ " and " _____ " is to _____ and put into practice.
6. (v.12:13-14) The Ultimate Conclusion: " _____ ".