

Isaiah 51 • How to Pursue God

1. (v.1-3) What we pursue we usually _____.
The _____ of those who pursue the Lord is _____.
2. (v.4-8) Those who pursue God embrace His _____ and _____ while shrinking from those of man's. They see the reality of the godly pursuit, which is _____, versus the earthly pursuit which is _____.
3. (v.9-11) Those who pursue God may not immediately be _____ from the _____ of earthly circumstances, but they have the assurance of God – which is a _____ as sure as if it already happened in the _____ – that they will be. They know to _____ they actually belong.
4. (v.12-16) The pursuit of God is not strictly limited to the things and events we see here on _____; they have corresponding effects and connections to things in the _____ realm as well. This is why they replace their _____ of men with a _____ of the Lord.
5. (v.17-20) Those who pursue God don't have to learn things the _____ way by God's _____.
6. (v.21-23) Those who pursue God will not continue forever in being _____ by the people and institutions of this present world.

Isaiah 51 • How to Pursue God

1. (v.1-3) What we pursue we usually _____.
The _____ of those who pursue the Lord is _____.
2. (v.4-8) Those who pursue God embrace His _____ and _____ while shrinking from those of man's. They see the reality of the godly pursuit, which is _____, versus the earthly pursuit which is _____.
3. (v.9-11) Those who pursue God may not immediately be _____ from the _____ of earthly circumstances, but they have the assurance of God – which is a _____ as sure as if it already happened in the _____ – that they will be. They know to _____ they actually belong.
4. (v.12-16) The pursuit of God is not strictly limited to the things and events we see here on _____; they have corresponding effects and connections to things in the _____ realm as well. This is why they replace their _____ of men with a _____ of the Lord.
5. (v.17-20) Those who pursue God don't have to learn things the _____ way by God's _____.
6. (v.21-23) Those who pursue God will not continue forever in being _____ by the people and institutions of this present world.