

Acts 27-28:10 • Allowing God to Control the Path

1. (27:1) Before the journey begins, the work of the Gospel has already begun.
2. (27:7-12) Differences of opinion will occur along the way.
3. (27:13-15) Circumstances are often beyond our control; we may have to “go with the flow”.
4. (27:15-20) It is often a process to get us to submit to something greater than ourselves.
5. (27:21-26) The physical circumstances should never be allowed to overwhelm us to the point that we cease functioning spiritually.
6. (27:27-29) It will probably not happen in the way or timing we envisioned.
7. (27:30-32) The end result may come about by divine intervention, but God often chooses to use earthly resources to obtain the end result.
8. (27:33-38) If we cannot change the circumstances leading to the fulfillment of His purpose, we are therefore completely IN His purpose and should never forsake communicating with and acknowledging Him.
9. (27:39-44) The manner in which the Holy Spirit works is often not according to our desire; something greater is at work.
10. (28:1-6) There will always be an opportunity to witness for the Gospel either by personal example or to those needing to hear it.
11. (28:7-10) What we originally set out to do, and what the Holy Spirit ultimately accomplishes, are often completely different things.
