

1 Corinthians 1:17-31 • Wisdom & Power

1. (v.17-18) The same message of the Gospel invokes a _____ among both believers and non-believers: it is not a matter of _____ but _____.
2. (v.19-20) The “wisdom” of the world is defined by those who apply their _____ (“the _____ man”), those looking for a confirming _____ (“the _____”), and those seeking to apply a higher _____ (“the _____”).
3. (v.21) Ultimately God is not discovered until _____ is applied to hearing the _____.
4. (v.22-25) Ultimately man’s highest wisdom and power falls short of _____.
5. (v.26-29) Through the whole of God’s Word we are provided _____ where God uses those who, by worldly standards, would have been the _____.
6. (v.30-31) Because Christ is our wisdom, it is closely associated with _____, _____, and _____. Biblical knowledge and biblical faith become _____.
7. (Jer. 23-24) True wisdom, true might, and true riches are scripturally connected to our _____ of and _____ with Christ.

1 Corinthians 1:17-31 • Wisdom & Power

1. (v.17-18) The same message of the Gospel invokes a _____ among both believers and non-believers: it is not a matter of _____ but _____.
2. (v.19-20) The “wisdom” of the world is defined by those who apply their _____ (“the _____ man”), those looking for a confirming _____ (“the _____”), and those seeking to apply a higher _____ (“the _____”).
3. (v.21) Ultimately God is not discovered until _____ is applied to hearing the _____.
4. (v.22-25) Ultimately man’s highest wisdom and power falls short of _____.
5. (v.26-29) Through the whole of God’s Word we are provided _____ where God uses those who, by worldly standards, would have been the _____.
6. (v.30-31) Because Christ is our wisdom, it is closely associated with _____, _____, and _____. Biblical knowledge and biblical faith become _____.
7. (Jer. 23-24) True wisdom, true might, and true riches are scripturally connected to our _____ of and _____ with Christ.