1 Corinthians 15 • Believer's Resurrection

1. (v.1-2) "Believer's Resurrection" cannot be experienced without the _____ and the inevitable result of _____, _____, and _____ it.

2. (v.3-8) Just as Christ was an _____ of the fulfillment of God's Word and thus the first _____ of Resurrection, so by _____ to God's Word all Believers will likewise _____ Resurrection.

3. (v.9-11) The proof of the working of God's _____ in each Believer is a changed _____ going forward which in turn testifies to and preaches the message of the _____.

4. (v.12-19) The work of the Gospel is not limited to defeating the work of _____ in this life but in overcoming the ultimate consequences of _____ working for _____ in the next life. What _____ with the cross is not _____ without the Resurrection.

5. (v.20-24) Believer's Resurrection is not only the fulfillment of God's _____ as exemplified in Christ literally fulfilling the _____, but the fulfillment of God's original _____ dating all the way back to the Garden as exemplified in Adam. This has always been God's _____.

6. (v.25-28) To fully believe the Gospel requires not only the belief that it will defeat _____ through each Believer's Resurrection, but cannot be separated from _____ in the coming kingdom of Christ. There is no _____ between the cross, the Resurrection, and the Millennial Kingdom – they are all the singular work of _____!

7. (v.29-34) The Gospel is not a message about simply living a good _____ or becoming a good _____; it is a total replacement both for this _____ and the one to _____.

8. (v.35-49) The process of Believer's Resurrection can only be partially comprehended in the illustration of a _____ dying in one form in order to give rise to something completely different and far more desirable, one _____ giving way to a greater _____. We will retain our personal _____ and _____, but become better _____ for a new way of life.

9. (v.50-58) Because a Believer's life is seen in the context of _____, what they do in the course of this _____ is a reflection in the next. They do not live for the _____ of this life but the greater _____ to spring forth from this seed.
